Additional Comments
Sprint1: Some key highlights of this project: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- met most of the requirements- clear and concise css styles and structures- well-formatted html and semantic tags- well-organized file and folder structures- good usage of the BEM naming convention- great understanding of using relative paths and units- good attempt at using hovering effects- great comments Some opportunities to consider for next submission: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Make sure to improve the required visual design: (ex. The site must closely resemble the mockups and design specs provided in the design package. Please check margin/padding of images and the position and layout of icons in the mobile breakpoint.)- Make sure to improve the required code quality: (ex. Please remove any unused files: all pdf files.) After completing all requirements, try to work on the Diving Deeper challenges!

Sprint2:Some key highlights of this project:

- met all of the requirements
- clear and concise css styles and structures
- well-formatted html and semantic tags
- well-organized file and folder structures
- good usage of the BEM naming convention
- great understanding of using relative paths and units
- great attempt at using hovering effects and completing the Diving Deeper challenge
- great comments

Some opportunities to consider for next submission:

- Make sure to improve the required visual design: (ex. The site must closely resemble the mockups and design specs provided in the design package, like font family and styles; date format: better to keep one of them.)
- Make sure to improve the required code quality: (ex. 1) Comment and show blocks must be written using DOM's methods and properties. 2) Please remove any unused lines of codes, unnecessary comments, or console.log statements.)

After completing all requirements, try to work on previous Diving Deeper challenges (ex. Mailto links)!
